SUMMARY

I am a fourth-year university student looking for internship and mentorship opportunities to gain real-world experience in a professional setting. I am dependable, reliable, and committed to completing tasks efficiently whether working independently or as part of a team. My current academic focus is within the domain of sports psychology, where I have engaged in coursework centered on motivation and mental strength within sports contexts. In addition to my passion for sports psychology, I have developed a keen interest in the operational dynamics of the sport's industry, with further exploration into its business aspects. I am eager to learn, grow, and contribute meaningfully through any professional experience in this sector.

WORK EXPERIENCE

OPERATIONS INTERN • APRIL - AUGUST 2023/2024

Parrish and Heimbecker - Tisdale Saskatchewan

I spent the past two summers with the Parrish and Heimbecker Grain Company, where I was entrusted with a wide range of operational and maintenance responsibilities, working largely independently. My key duties included overseeing the dispatch of chemicals and fertilizers, custom blending seeds and fertilizers to meet customer specifications, and managing product deliveries to farms. I was also responsible for reconciling crop input inventories to ensure accurate tracking and availability, as well as managing inventory levels. Additionally, I maintained and serviced equipment to ensure peak performance and managed general yard and building maintenance. These roles emphasized my attention to detail, reliability, and efficiency in completing tasks with minimal supervision.

SUMMER STUDENT • APRIL 2022 - AUGUST 2022

Housing Authority - Tisdale Saskatchewan

I assisted the maintenance team with daily tasks such as waste removal, lawn care, changing light fixtures, and general upkeep of apartment suites across multiple locations. I consistently maintained a high standard of cleanliness and functionality in both common areas and residential units. The role required strong attention to detail, as well as effective communication skills for interacting with residents and collaborating with other employees. I often worked independently while ensuring adherence to safety standards and completing tasks efficiently.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Currently enrolled in a practicum with Dino's Athletics in the communications and marketing department. This has started to expose me to different aspects of the sport and business industry, as well as further increased my interest in sport business. Experiences like this have supplied me with the confidence and intellect to engage in meaningful discussions with respected people. I have also received an offer of admission for the class of 2027 to study a masters of sport business at the European School of Sports Business and further my professional experience and knowledge.
